About Me

As a seasoned expert in wine authentication and quality control, I help private collectors ensure the authenticity and value of their wine collections. With years of experience in the wine industry, I have dedicated my skills in identifying counterfeit wines and protecting fine and rare bottles. Using advanced tools such as microscopy, ultraviolet light, and cutting-edge authentication technologies, I deliver precise and reliable results, tailored to your specific needs as a wine enthusiast or investor. Whether you're seeking to verify a recent purchase or expand your knowledge of wine authentication, I am here to share my expertise and guide you. My goal is to protect your collection and provide you with confidence and clarity in every bottle.

Mission and Vision

At enoauthentica, my mission is to safeguard the integrity of the fine wine industry through expert authentication, quality control, and education. I empower collectors, investors, and professionals by providing not only trusted services but also training and insights to deepen their understanding of wine authenticity and preservation. Together, we build a more informed and secure wine community.

My vision is to set the global standard for authenticity, transparency, and knowledge in the wine industry. I aim to create a world where every fine wine is verified, valued, and its story preserved, while fostering continuous learning and collaboration among collectors, investors, and professionals.

WINE CONSULTING

My consulting service ensures that your wine collection or portfolio is expertly managed. I assess each bottle for authenticity and quality, identifying any risks such as counterfeits or improper storage. As a collector, enthusiast, or semi-professional, you can trust that your collection is protected, and its value optimized. With my support, you'll gain professional documentation and a clear market perspective to safeguard and enhance your investment.

What's Included in the Service?

- Investment Strategy – Personalized advice on buying and selling wines to build and optimize your collection or portfolio.
- Authentication Guidance – Expert support to verify provenance, detect counterfeits, and protect your investment.
- Portfolio Review – Evaluations of your existing wines to assess quality, potential, and alignment with your goals.
- Custom Solutions – Bespoke consulting services tailored to specific needs, whether you're expanding, restructuring, or preparing for an auction.

CELLAR MANAGEMENT

Managing a wine collection can feel overwhelming—but it doesn't have to be. My Cellar Management service is designed to bring clarity, structure, and security to your collection, whether you're a private collector or an investor. With flexible options, this service can be customized to meet your specific needs.

ORGANIZE, PROTECT AND OPTIMIZE YOUR WINE COLLECTION

- Inventory Management - A full and detailed inventory of your collection, giving you a clear overview of what you own.
- Condition Reports - Assessments of bottle condition, including labels, corks, capsules, and fill levels, to track quality over time.
- Valuation Reports - Accurate valuations to help with insurance planning, financial assessments, or sales preparation.
- Organizational Structure - Guidance on organizing and cataloging your collection for accessibility and long-term care.
- Collection Insights - Recommendations for optimizing your storage and highlighting areas for growth or refinement.

SECURING YOUR INVENTORY

Wine Authentication Reports

Protect your wine inventory from counterfeits and ensure its value for present and future sales. Each wine is thoroughly inspected, assigned a unique reference number, and documented in a detailed report, securely stored for your peace of mind.

Quality Inspection Reports

Prepare your wine collection for sale, purchase, or storage with professional inspection and documentation. Each wine is meticulously categorized, providing detailed records for personal use, customers, or insurance purposes.

Client-Consultant Confidentiality

Your relationships with suppliers and clients are invaluable. I offer tailored confidentiality agreements to protect your interests and ensure trust in our collaboration. Your wines deserve the best foundation, and I'm here to provide it.
